

FRONT ROW: FN T. L. Tidwell, FN G. V. Mason, SN J. E. Sullivan, BACK ROW:
LTJG G. B. Johnson, DC1 C. N. Westphal, DC3 L. G. Matt, DCC R. L. Jones

DAMAGE CONTROLMEN

It's hard to really evaluate a team of men who are trained to save a sinking ship until that ship begins to sink. However, GITMO evaluated our DC's as excellent. Trained to repair everything from the Captain's sampan to a leaking urinal, or building a swing set for the children of Olongapo City, the DC's proved to be both versatile and unexpedable during this deployment.

Although this group is not composed of as many "liberty hounds" as the rest of the department, a few still managed to leave a trail of wine, women and song from Hong Kong to Selma, Alabama.

FRONT ROW: FN A. Mencher, EM2 J. P. Watson, FN R. A. Dunway, BACK ROW:
LTJG D. E. Prosser, EM2 C. L. Wilkie III, EMCP L. N. May, EMCP C. W. Veasey

ELECTRICIANMATES

Engineering is a never ending job of maintenance, operation and repair. The "Live Wires" of our Engineering Department play a big role towards performing this mission.

It's too bad that a total number of lightbulbs replaced or number of feet of electrical cable installed during the deployment was never recorded. INGHAM's Electricians surely hold the "record" in this respect.

Adding that extra "professional pay" to our EM's already abundant love for liberty produced what we call the "Last of the Big Time Spenders"!