

COMMISSARYMEN

We never before realized how many recipes there were for eggs and how "blah" they could taste after a full night of UNREP or NGFS. Seriously, our cooks did a splendid job of keeping us well fed during the deployment. The variety of food served was unbelievable considering the fact that a large majority of what we ate was shipped from the United States. Seldom did anyone go hungry.

The day we departed port was always interesting as far as deviations to the menu were concerned. After effects from the last night of liberty ashore mixed with that unexpected roll and pitch of the ship helped the Commissarymen end up with many a pot of stew.

FRONT ROW: CS2 L. Forester, SN R. L. Dallar, SN W. O. Adams, BACK ROW: CS1 F. H. Comer, CSC T. L. Magorian, CS2 W. P. Garrish Jr., CS2 J. P. Griffin

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT

FRONT ROW: SD3 V. N. Dagsa, TN E. P. Aure, TN R. A. DeLeon, BACK ROW: SD3 M. P. Ignacio, SD2 R. A. Legaspi, SD3 P. V. Custodio Jr., TN A. R. Aquisap (Not Pictured)

STEWARDS

The Stewards prepare and serve meals for the officers. They maintain cleanliness and orderliness of the Officer's Galley, Captain's Pantry, Wardroom, Cabin and Officer's Quarters. Their Filipino chow is the best in the Orient, we all attest to that.

All the Stewards had excellent liberty and leave in Subic Bay, so much in fact, that a couple got hooked by their "true love".