

STOREKEEPERS

Keeping INGHAM's crew fat and well fed during our twelve month deployment was a difficult task, but one which was capably handled by our Supply Department. It is hard to tell just how much midnight oil was burned by our storekeepers before an UNREP or VERTREP to keep the ship stocked with food, tools, spare parts and maintenance materials. Every two weeks we looked to supply to have the money list ready and hand out almost eighteen thousand dollars in payrolls to INGHAM personnel.
