

Being in New York gave us
a good chance to see the World's Fair.

Lower Manhattan as seen from the Empire State Building.

NEW YORK

The NORTHWIND arrived at Brooklyn Naval Shipyard on the 23rd of June to pick up Oceanographic scientists from NAVOCEANO, the University of Wisconsin, and two Oceanographers from the U.S. Coast Guard Oceanographic Unit in Washington, D.C.; also five "brand new" Ensigns from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy. We also took on supplies and provisions to last us for our long Arctic journey.
