

"FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE"

In the course of the patrol, the NORTHWIND had many visits by Russian ships and planes. The first encounter with the Russians took place in the northern tip of the Norwegian Sea on July 19th when the trawler "EKHOLOT" cruised with us for the better part of a day. On the 21st of July, while in the Kara Sea, we encountered the first of many Badger type jets. The next encounter with the Russians was on the 22nd of July when the Kotlin class destroyer No. 020 came within 200 yards of our starboard side. She left us on the 23rd just before we entered the ice. Practically every day while we were in the Kara Sea, Badger type jets made passes over the ship. When we again met the No. 020
