

Panama Canal (Gatun Locks). A Japanese freighter shares the westward passage with the Owasco enroute to Hawaii.

There was space for all when the water levelled off.

Cable cars controlled our lock transit.

As gates closed, we changed seas and climates.

Left; CDR Fearn, "You realize, of course, that you were speeding, don't you?"