

FO-KONG

When returning from patrol we received her distress signal. We approached as she was listing to port. Our repair team was sent over to assist this ship, the same age and length as our own.

Through our efforts, she regained her self control.

