

WERE ENGAGED IN THEir OWN

The men of these small craft were sometimes happy and sometimes sad. Often, we did not have to ask, "How was it?" -- their faces and haste told us.

