

Above, a break after work. The day's tasks might have included painting some part of the vessel's hull (right) or repairing an item in a multitude of machinery (below).

