

wilkes station

An American icebreaker, using Soviet charts, assists a Danish vessel, under charter to the French government, in the resupply of an Australian Antarctic station. That was the way it was when SOUTHWIND escorted the helpless THALA DAN through the ice fields to Wilkes Station, aided in unloading her cargo, and helped construct the new Casey Station. Within 4 days, SOUTHWIND was bound for Australia.

Hit 'em again, hit 'em again!

